Chapter 1 Down the Rabbit Hole

In a state of crazed ecstasy, Alice was falling down, down, down the rabbit hole. Twisting, Turning, Shaking! “I wondered if I shall fall right through the Earth! How funny if it’ll come out with the people that walk with their heads downwards!” Down, Down, down.

“Dinah, my dear cat! I wish you were down here with me! There are no mice in the air, I’m afraid, but you might catch a bat (and that’s very like a mouse, you know)

Oh~~~~~! What a crazy final drop!

Chapter 2 The Pool of Tears

Alice is having some very curious adventures here. She just finished off a cake with the words “Eat Me” on it. Curiouser and curiouser! Wow! She is growing terribly large. Her feet are so far away. “Good Bye, feet!” Her head is striking against the roof! She can’t pass through the door into the garden. She began to cry (sobbing sound.....). Soon there was a large pool of tears.

Chapter 3 The Caucus-race

Alice met a mouse, a dodo and many other strange animals at the edge of the pool of tears. They all have the question: “How can we get dry?” The Mouse called out “Sit down, all of you, listen to me! I’ll soon make you dry enough! This is the driest thing I know.... “William the Conqueror... (Speak in a dull tone)”

“It doesn’t seem to dry me at all!”

Dodo suggested a Caucus-Race and everyone ran in any direction they pleased.

“The race is over!”

Did I win? Who is the winner?

“Everybody has won, and she must give the prizes to us!” Dodo pointed to Alice.

Alice had no idea what to do but she found a box of candy in her pocket exactly one a piece for all. They all cheered.

Chapter 5 Advice from a Caterpillar

After eating one side of mushroom, Alice cried:

Ouch! Where is my shoulder? Oh! My neck! It's as long as a snake!

"Snake! You are going to steal my eggs' said the dove.

"I'm not snake. I'm a ---I'm...a little girl."

"A likely story indeed!" (said in deepest contempt), "I've seen many little girls, but never one with such a neck! No, no! You're snake; there's no use denying it. I suppose you'll be telling me next that you never tasted an egg!"

"I have tasted eggs as much as snakes do" (Alice is a very truthful child)

"I don't believe!"

Chapter 7 The Mad Tea Party

It's the stupidest tea party ever according to Alice except for Hatter's eye opened so WIDE and began asking riddles

"I believe I can guess it" said Alice

"You should say what you mean"

"I do, at least I mean what I say—that's the same thing, you know."

"Not the same a bit! You might just say that 'I see what I eat' is the same as 'I eat what I see'!"

"You may just as well say 'I breathe when I sleep' is the same as 'I sleep when I breathe'!"

Chapter 8 The Queen's Croquet-Ground

Chaos! Five and Seven keep painting the roses red; Alice whacks the hedge-hog "ball", which keeps wandering off; the Queen of Hearts continually shouts "Off with her head!" "Off with her head!"-- while the Cheshire Cat floats benignly above.

Chapter 10 The Lobster-Quadrille

After Alice recited "Tis the voice of the Lobster". Gryphon went on "Shall we dance another Lobster-Quadrille or would you like Mock turtle to sing for you?"

"Oh, a song, please"

"Hm! Well, Sing her "Beautiful Soup", will you, old fellow?"

The Mock turtle sighed deeply, and began to sing this:.....

Chapter 11 Who Stole the Tarts?

The trial's beginning. The Knave of Hearts was accused of stealing the tarts of the Queen of Hearts. "Call the first Witness" The White rabbit blew on the trumpet. The Hatter came in with a teacup and a piece of bread-and-butter.

"Give your evidence, or you will lose your head!"

Hatter was too frightened to say anything.

The next witness, the cook, came in with the pepper-box. [sneezing] People began sneezing all at once.

Chapter 12 Alice's Evidence

Alice was the next witness. White rabbit gave a letter to the King and read it out. No one understood a single word of it. "This is the most important evidence we've heard today" (clapping & laughing sounds)

Alice said "I don't believe there is any meaning in it."

"If there's no meaning in it, then we don't need to try to find any. (clapping & laughing sounds) Jury, what's your decision?"

The Queen shouts "No, No! Punishment first, decision afterwards"

"Nonsense" (loudly) said Alice

"Shut up!" said the Queen (angrily)

"I won't" said Alice

"Off with her head!" (The queen shouted at the top of her voice)

Who care for you? You're nothing but a pack of cards!"

Now the whole pack of cards rose up in the air then flying towards Alice. (a little scream)

She found herself lying near a riverbank.

"Oh, I've had such a curious dream!"
